TIME TO ACT.

There is one side of the election to be settled at the poll next Monday, which has been handled with kid gloves by politicians and papers—if the question is approached at all—and to our minds it is a very important one at this stage of the country's development. It is the part that the province of Quebec is and always has been playing in the political life of the country ever since the days of McDonald and Blake. This is a question that should be faced fairly and squarely now and settled for all time to come. Those who have studied Canadian history look back with unhappy thought on the manner in which both political parties have in the past been toying with the Quebec vote and treating them very much as a spoil parent treats a spoiled child by holding a stick of candy in front of them and promising them a lick if they'll only be good and do what they are told. Because of this the Quebec vote under the chin to keep it from crying, Canadian politicians got the idea that just as the United States had to have New York to win the presidency so had Canada to have Quebec to win an election. But just as the United States found in the last election that it could elect a president without New York so did Canada find in the last parliament that it could do business without the support of a solid Quebec. Until the announcement of another general election it looked as though Quebec was getting away from the flock of sheep way of voting, and that its people were going to think and act and vote as individuals, but now Bourassa and his followers—because they think they have a little bigger piece of candy and a little healthier chuck under the chin for their compatriots than the other fellows—are attempting to throw the whole Dominion back another fifty years and again place it at the mercy of the whims of one particular province.

At his meeting at the Empress theatre here last evening Mr. Reilly, in effect, advised his hearers to continue the habit of feeding Quebec on sugar plums and endearing chit tickling rather than treating them like all other provinces in Canada. We do not believe in that sort of thing. We believe in the answer on Mr. Reilly's bill: "Let the People Rule" and not in his "Let Quebec Rule" attitude.

It certainly is a big mistake to allow any one province to hold the balance of power and now is our time to act.

THE HALIFAX DISASTER.

Like a sudden attack from a fleet of air monsters or of battle-ships magically lined up along its waterfront, the ancient and beautiful and patriotic city of Halifax has received a devastating shock that has smothered it in death and ashes. Last Thursday's appalling calamity seems to have been purely accidental—one of those awful tragedies liable to occur in Chicago or any other munitions-producing town or city on the continent.

A Canadian veteran of the war who was an eye-witness, declared he had never seen anything so horrible during his two years in the midst of the big gun inferno in France.

It brings Canada closer to the terrible European holocaust than anything the Kaiser could have accomplished in ordinary warfare. Her first feelings will be intense sympathy for the thousands of the stricken and bereaved. Gradually will come added determination to fight the common enemy harder than before—to re-dedicate herself to the struggle for liberty and justice for the sake of these myriads of fresh victims of German militarism, which, after all, was the cause of last Thursday's disaster in Halifax.

The last few years have been pregnant with calamity and full of great sorrow, but a stricken world extends its affectionate sympathy and succor to Halifax in its hour of supreme travail.

SHOP EARLY.

It is now only eleven more days till Christmas, and a trip around through our stores will show that our merchants are well prepared for the occasion. All are well stocked up with goods suitable for Xmas gifts in their respective lines and they are all preparing to handle the extra trade. This being the case the question of Christmas shopping is practically solved for the buyers of this district.

To make shoppers more satisfactory for all concerned we would strongly recommend that this part of the season's activities be extended to as early as possible. In this way you not only get the advantage of a better selection but are reasonably sure of getting better service from the clerks who are usually overworked at the last minute.

VOTE EARLY.

There is no doubt that the largest number of votes ever polled in Redcliff will be polled here next Monday. On the list are a number of women and also a number of men who are employed in the several plants now in operation here. As the latter may find it hard to get to the polls during working hours there will no doubt be a rush during the off hours. This being the case we would strongly advise all business men and others who possibly can, to vote as soon after the poll opens at 9 o'clock as possible. Women should also make an effort to get out either as soon as possible in the morning or immediately after the noon meal.

In this way inconveniences and delays may be overcome and the work of the returning officers more successfully conducted.

WOMEN!

In the election next Monday a number of women in this constituency will be called upon to cast their votes for the first time. Naturally there are a number of women who think that as they are in Canada they should have a vote in this coming election, and while the Review has always been a strong advocate of women's suffrage, we are of the opinion that this is not the time to allow any side lines to detract from the main issue before the electors. In this contention we feel sure we have the reading thinking women behind us, especially at this time when so much is at stake.

Opponents to union government are making a big noise about this question and are using it as a red herring to beloud the main issues. They say the women as a whole are being deprived of their franchise by the new election act. This is unfair as it cannot be truthfully said that they are deprived of something which they never possessed in federal elections.

The cry of the opposition is merely an election dodge sprung on the eve of an election in an effort to stir up strife and possibly win a few votes. We have too much confidence in the fairness and wisdom of the women of this district to think they can be influenced by any such election dodge. We are satisfied our women are well enough posted in political affairs to know that this province was the first in Canada to grant the franchise to women, and that they were given that privilege when the Hon. A. L. Sifton, the union government candidate in this constituency, was premier of the province. This being the case it should not take them long in deciding whether or not they would rather leave their case in the hands of a man who has been tried and has not been found wanting, or in the hands of one who has thrust himself on the people of this riding and is resorting to the threadworn herring drawing habit.

If the women are sincere in their requests for the franchise one of the surest ways of getting it is for them to use their influence in electing the Hon. A. L. Sifton, the first provincial premier in Canada to give women the vote.

GOOD RESULTS.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's trip west has done at least one good thing for the people of the western provinces. By his speeches in two of the larger centres he has shown just where he stands in the matter of conscription and has made it very uncomfortable for his candidates who have been trying to tell the electors that the old chief's heart was in the right place.

Wilfrid's stand in the present crisis, the people were patient with him and gave him a good western, fair play reception. Not the kind of a reception his followers down in Quebec and Kitchener give the Premier of Canada and other leaders of the union government. This is a source of great satisfaction and should not only help remove the stain cast on Canada's good name by our eastern hoodlums, but should also serve as an object lesson to them—they are capable of, and willing to learn.

Cables from Italy charge that German troops went into battle forcing Italian women and children prisoners to march ahead of them. This is what we might expect in Canada if Laurier and Bourassa had their way and the people have decided to wait till the Huns invaded Canada before we started to fight. Let us show by our vote next Monday that we put a different interpretation on the old saying "Women and children first."

Urging the support of Union government at the forthcoming election, the executive committee of the board of social service and evangelism of the Methodist church has issued a statement to members of that denomination. They request that the statement must be read from the pulpit of the church.

INSTANT ACTION SUR-

PRIZES MANY HERE!

This grocer's story surprises local people: "I had had stomach trouble. All food seemed to sour and form gas. Was always constipated. Nothing helped until I tried backhorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-Like. ONE SPOONFUL astonished me with it's INSTANT action." Because Adler-Like flushes the ENTIRE alimentary tract it relieves ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas and prevents appendicitis. It has QUICK-RESP action of anything we ever sold. C. T. Win the War

A Laurier-Bourassa Victory means deserting our boys in the trenches for over a year, throwing up our hands and quitting! Don't shoot "Kamerad" under the Referendum proposal. Come out and fight for Union Government.

Make No Mistake

IF LAURIER WINS:

(1) Canada will send no more reinforcements to the front, which practically means quitting the war and placing the country in the same class as Russia.

ARE THE ENGLISH-SPEAKING PEOPLE PREPARED TO STAND FOR THAT?

It is because the French-Canadians have not done their duty that Conscription had to be resorted to. The French-Canadians have made it perfectly clear that they do not like the war and are against Canada participating in it further. Some of them even go to the length of saying that the soldiers should be brought back from the front. The Nationalists are demanding that the men who have been enrolled under the Military Service Act be disbanded and sent back to their homes. To secure the Nationalist support Laurier-Liberal candidates in Quebec have signed the following pledge:—

"I, the undersigned, candidate in the Federal Elections, undertake by these presents, if I am elected, to demand the immediate suspension of the Military Service Act, and of all its effects until Canadian soldiers have been pronounced by way of plebiscite; and should the majority of the electors condemn it, that it be considered as null from its origin and that in consequence all conscripts be disbanded."

"I also undertake to vote against any Government which should refuse to adopt the above enumerated policy."

NEIGHBOR, YOUR HAND!

(By Robert J. C. Stead)
In recognition of the action of the United States in rushing relief to Halifax.

Neighbor, your hand! In this dark day
When sfrange convulsions of Fate
And wrath we meant for liberty
Have laid our city desolate,—

You, from our mutual mother nursing,
Didst hear a cry along the sea,
A cry that in our common tongue
Didst sound a common call to thee.

Neighbor, your hand; We have no speech
For life words; we understand;—
Across a thousand leagues we reach
And feel the pressure of your hand.

Wholesale Arrest of Germans in Halifax

Acting on instructions of the military authorities, Chief of Police Hanrahan has commenced the wholesale arrest of German residents in Halifax. There have been a number of citizens of German birth who have been allowed full liberty and only required to report once a month. Sixteen have been placed under arrest and it is understood that following some investigation by the military authorities, a few of them were released. Some are being held at the county jail. No information has been given out as to the reasons for the arrests and the authorities refuse to say if it was done through any evidence they had secured in regard to the explosion.

Huns Offer Slavs Impossible Terms

The Russian delegation from the front which took part in the armistice negotiations reported the soldiers and workmen council today. The terms for the armistice were outlined by one of the delegation as follows:

"The Russians proposed that the duration of the armistice be six months; with three days' notice of all the resumption of hostilities the armistice to embrace all fronts in all countries; no troops to be transferred from Moon Sound and Moon Island to be evacuated by the Germans."

"The Germans made the following counter-proposition:
"The armistice to last 8 days; to embrace the Russian fronts only; the transfer of units less than a division to be permitted; Moon Sound and Island to remain in German occupation; the Russian troops to be removed from the Macedonian and French fronts; Russian and Turkish troops to evacuate Persia."

"The consideration of the report was postponed."

Roumania Joins Slav Armistice

Cessation of hostilities along the Eastern front has now extended to that part of the line held by the Roumanians. An official communication from Jassy, the Roumanian capital, says that as a result of the Russians having proposed an armistice to the enemy it had been decided that the Roumanians should associate themselves with the Russians, and that therefore fighting has ceased.

Canning Chickens

To Conserve Meats

This more poultry than usual is finding its way to market in a thin, unfamiliar condition. There is a little sale for this grade of chickens and their presence in so many chicken shops has a great deal to do with the comparatively low price returned, at present, to producers. Cull chickens, it is said, frequently prove more of a liability than an asset to producers. The best place for them is in an earthen jar made ready for table use. In the season when good chickens are scarce and high in price, poultry thus prepared may be utilized and served in many appetizing ways.

The following methods of canning poultry are being advocated by Government institutions in the United States:

Method 1.—Dress the chicken, separating it into sections or leaving it whole as preferred. Season, and fry for serving. When the meat is three-fourths done remove from the fire and pack the pieces into a clean, hot glass jar. If the chicken is whole break the neck and legs, roll the chicken up into a small roll, tie with string or fasten with toothpicks. A quart jar should hold two or more small chickens. Pour over the chicken the hot liquid from the frying pan, if necessary adding hot water to fill the jar completely. Adjust the rubbers and top, leaving the latter slightly loose. Place in a waterbath canner and sterilize from 90 to 120 minutes, depending upon the size of the chicken. Remove and tighten the covers immediately.

Method 2.—Dress the chicken, and leave whole or cut into pieces as preferred. Cover with boiling water, and simmer until the meat can be separated from the bones. Return the bones to the liquid, and boil it down one-half. Pack the meat closely in hot glass jars, add one level teaspoonful salt to each quart, and fill the jar with the hot liquid. Adjust the rubbers and top, leaving the jar slightly loose. Sterilize three to three and one-half hours in a waterbath canner. Remove and tighten the top immediately. The liquid remaining may be placed in a jar, sterilized 90 minutes and kept for soup or gravy. Two pounds of dressed fowl should make one pint of solid meat, and a pint of thick stock.

Method 3.—Cut the dressed, raw chicken into convenient sections. Pack into glass jars, add one teaspoonful salt to a quart, fill the jar with boiling water, adjust the rubbers and top as above, and sterilize in a waterbath canner three to four hours, depending upon the size of the chicken. Method 4 given above is for small, frying sized chickens. Methods 2 and 3, which is coming to the fore, are suitable for chickens of any size.

Intolerance

While the warriors of ancient Babylon had not the means of wholesale slaughter in vogue today, their warfare could hardly be considered as child's play, as is plainly evidenced in D. W. Griffith's masterpiece, "Intolerance," which is coming to the Empress Theatre for Wednesday, December 13. In this gigantic spectacle, Mr. Griffith has refought, faithfully and authentically the battles waged by Cyrus and his Persian hordes on Belshazzar of Babylon.

Each and every detail in connection with the life and customs of the people of Babylon, not to mention details, all up to the time that he victorious Cyrus took the ancient city, is represented by Mr. Griffith according to the most authentic records.

British Take Hebron Famous Bible City

General E. H. H. Allenby reports that he has occupied the town of Hebron, in Palestine, the British war office has announced.

Ancient Hebron, today called by the Arabians name, El Khulid, is situated about 20 miles southwest of Jerusalem with approximately 15,000 inhabitants. Although the British forces are nearer to Jerusalem on the west and north-east, taking of Hebron is of interest because tradition identifies it as the site of the tomb of Abraham and other patriarchs. King David resided there the first seven years of his reign. A magnificent mosque, accessible only to Mohammedans, stands upon the traditional site of patriarch's burial place.

Lieutenant Anellozzi of the Italian aviation corps has executed one of the most daring exploits of the war, telegraphing an Austrian balloon, which was observing Venice from the Pieve line, passing through the gas bag with parts of the envelope about his pro-peller and winning a government bonus of $6,000 ($13,500 lire for his exploit.
